TEXTILE QUOTAS

Satisfactory Reply
Received

Difficulties faced by local weaving factories have now been removed. On receipt of the intimation that the Secretary of State had requested other Colonial Governments to waive new textile quotas, regulations if goods were shipped from Hong Kong before the end of July, the Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce wrote to the Hong Kong Government suggesting there must have been some misapprehension of circumstances.

"It is needless to waste time or words," wrote the Chamber of Commerce, "enlarging on the fact that a notice received in the last few days of the month does not make it possible to ship in many directions before the end of that month. A merchant would be fortunate if he could find space in even one ship at such short notice."

"From the Government's point of view, also, it would be a physical impossibility to verify in such a short time the documents which would have to be inspected before (Continued on Back Page).

CHINA SHOULD DECLARE WAR AGAINST JAPAN

— DR. CHOU LOU

Japanese Fear Chinese Attack In Hankow Concession

Evacuation of Foreigners Ordered

"JAPAN ATTEMPTS NOT ONLY TO SWALLOW UP CHINA BUT TO SMASH WORLD CULTURE," DECLARED DR. CHOU LOU, KUOMINTANG STATESMAN AND CHANCELLOR OF THE SUN YAT SEN UNIVERSITY, IN A STATEMENT TO THE FOREIGN PRESS YESTERDAY MORNING ABOARD THE "EMPRESS OF JAPAN" JUST BEFORE SHE SAILED FOR SHANGHAI.

ELABORATING HIS ASSERTION, DR. CHOU SAID THAT JAPANESE BOMBARDMENT OF THE NANKAI UNIVERSITY WAS AN OUTRAGE AGAINST WORLD CULTURE, AS A UNIVERSITY WAS AN INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTION. THE AIR RAIDS ON NANKAI SERVED NO MILITARY OBJECTIVE BUT WERE MERELY VANDALISM AGAINST CIVILIZATION.

The veteran Kuomintang leader expressed satisfaction that the Central Authorities were resisting Japanese aggression, as he had been championing repulsion of the Japanese invaders during the past six years. He stated that every support should be given to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan, in waging resistance against Japanese aggression.

"In view of the repeated Japanese incursions, China should declare war against Japan," President Chou added. "This is to check spies, prevent continuation of Japanese trade whose proceeds is to finance war against us, and to invoke treaties effectively against invasion."

SHANGHAI: IT IS FEARED THAT HANKOW MAY BECOME THE NEXT SCENE OF CHINESE-JAPANESE HOSTILITIES. FOLLOWING THE LANDING OF JAPANESE MARINES AND PROCLAMATION OF A STATE OF EMERGENCY IN THE JAPANESE CONCESSION, ALL JAPANESE RESIDENTS IN THE CITY WERE ORDERED TO GATHER IN THE WHARF BY 6 P.M.

ACCORDING TO JAPANESE REPORTS, JAPANESE MARINES AND CHINESE TROOPS, IN FULL WAR KIT, PACE EACH OTHER ALONG THE ENTIRE BORDER OF THE JAPANESE CONCESSION AND CHINESE TERRITORY.

JAPANESE NAVAL AUTHORITIES EXPLAINED THAT THE LANDING OF MARINES WAS EFFECTED IN VIEW OF "THE INCREASING INDICATION THAT THE CHINESE FORCES SURROUNDING THE JAPANESE CONCESSION MAY LAUNCH AN ATTACK."

THE $20,000,000 LOAN

London, August 6.

Most papers give prominence to the $20,000,000 Chinese loan while drawing attention to the fact that there was no question of an immediate issue.

Far Eastern banks and the Chinese Embassy were inundated yesterday with enquiries for further details. The "Financial News" says that the conditions for granting the loan to China cannot exist till the Far Eastern political situation is clarified. The "Financial Times" understands that the British Treasury is closely interested in the projected loan. It was part of the plan to reform Chinese financial and economic situation which was prepared by Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, adding its thought, that besides a currency reform, part of the money will be devoted to the development of the communications of China which will mean considerable purchases of machinery and equipment in Great Britain.

The "Birmingham Post" in a leading article says that it means that certain powers, including the United States, were now willing to give practical assistance to Nanking and help the Chinese people to find their feet whether Japan likes it or not. That seems to us a matter of congratulation and the lenders will be bound to satisfy themselves that the money is employed in purposes presumably but not specifically military which is conducive to the social and economic stabilisation of China. They will acquire a direct and fairly substantial interest in Chinese economic welfare and security existing in the Chinese state of which the aggressors have to take into account.

JAPANESE EVACUATIONS

ALL ASKED TO EVACUATE

Hankow, August 6.

The Japanese authorities have warned the British and other foreigners in the Japanese Concession to evacuate immediately. Foreigners in Hankow have been advised to concentrate at designated points in the event of emergency.

"TO THE LAST MAN"

In an interview with General Tsal Ting-kai it was learned that he is on his way North in order to serve his country in any way possible. He further stated that the decision regarding war depended upon the Japanese and that China will preserve peace as long as Japan abandons her idea of invading their territory.

"If the Japanese insist on invading China we must fight to the last man in order to preserve the existence of our nation," said General Tsal.

Accompanying General Tsal are Generals Chiang Kwong-nai, Shum Kwang-hon, Tam Kai-san, Lee Sing-tsun and Yip Shu-chung.

YANGLIUCHING CAPTURED

Shanghai, August 5.

It is reported that Yangliuching was captured by the Chinese troops yesterday.

From noon yesterday up to this morning, quiet reigned on this front.

SEVERE JAPANESE LOSSES

Shanghai, August 6.

Early this morning over 400 Japanese troops taking advantage of the darkness, attacked Nankai. At first they machine-gunned the Chinese positions, and then attacked in full strength. The Chinese troops did not return fire but scattered and surrounded the attacking Japanese troops, and not being able to advance or retreat, the Japanese troops were badly defeated and suffered almost total loss.

It is reported that during this fight the Chinese troops captured over sixty machine-guns, and a large number of rifles.

CHANG TZUNG CHUNG RESIGNS

Peking: Following rumours that his relations with the Japanese were very strained, Chang Tzung Chung this morning announced his resignation from the Chairmanship of the Hopei-Charhar Political Council, on the plea of ill-health. Chang is reported to have entered a hospital.

The administration is to be carried on in committee by members of the Council. Generals Chieh Shieh Yuan, Chang Yun Yung, Chang Ti and Messrs. Tse Yeh Yao and Yi Shih Hao. It is understood that Chang Tzung Chung found the position such, owing to the crisis, that he could not adopt a definite anti-Nanking stand. The Chinese press reports that the new organization is known as the Hopei-Charhar Advisory Council, formed under joint Chinese and Japanese auspices for the purpose of "registering opposition to the advance of Nanking troops into North China, so as to maintain friendly relations with Japan and avert the disasters of war!"

KOWLOON CANTON RAILWAY

Train reports from the Kowloon-Canton Railway have been most satisfactory lately, since an increase of forty per cent has been reported, but starting from Monday last a most exceptional increase became noticeable.

Trains from Hong Kong to Canton have been very full, but those bringing visitors to the Colony have been even more crowded, and yesterday the number arriving was sufficient to catch the eye of the public.

The train arriving at noon yesterday was absolutely packed, and most of the passengers seemed to be laden with bags, bundles and packages of all descriptions. Many of these were stacked at the ferry and it was some little time before the visitors could get it all away across the harbour.

AIR SERVICE TO THE NORTH

The big Sikorsky plane "Che-kiang" took off as usual from Kai Tak yesterday carrying seven passengers. One of them was General Y. S. Wen, and another was Mr. Shui, former Mayor of Tientsin.

The C.N.A.C. are making Shanghai their "journey's end" for the present, but they will be prepared to take passengers on to Nanking as soon as it is considered safe to do so. All passengers carried yesterday had booked to Shanghai only.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHTS

London, August 6. The Pan American Clipper III left Foyles Harbour early this morning in the third experimental flight across the Atlantic. The Imperial Airways flying boat Camelia will also make a daylight crossing from Newfoundland a few days later. The day flights are made for the purpose of experimenting with wireless communications, the reception of which is better at night.

EUROPEAN LADY INJURED

BUS ACCIDENT IN CITY

Whilst returning to the Blake Pier terminus, bus No. 447 met with a slight accident. According to the driver of the bus, he was driving to town and about 10.22 p.m. he rounded the junction of Queen's Road and Pedder Street. As the road was rather wet the rear wheel skidded and the bus scraped the side of a pillar next to the Blue Bird Cafe, carrying away with it a sign-board. The bus was not materially damaged. Mrs. Lane received slight injuries to the left ankle as a result of the mishap.

HOUSE RENTS INCREASED

Paris, Aug. 6. Following the increase of subway, bus and taxi fares, house rents will also be increased by 10 per cent from October 1. It will be remembered that in 1935 Premier Laval had lowered the rents by 10 per cent, and this decree will now be abrogated. Government will decree that the additional 10 per cent must be used by the landlord for repairs.

Ghost Of Kingsford-Smith

The late Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, ace Australian aviator, and his widow.

To haunt the Federal Government at Canberra came the unwelcome ghost of Australia's one-time hero and Number One flyer, Air Commodore Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith. Acting Defence Minister Mr. H.V.C. Thorby revealed that he would make inquiries into charges alleged to have been brought by Lady Kingsford-Smith in Honolulu.

These were that the Commonwealth Government failed to appreciate Sir Charles' contribution to aviation, that this failure indirectly resulted in his death. Roared Smith's Weekly: "Whether Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's widow made these charges or not, they are true."

Having flown hundreds of thousands of miles in raising the aviation prestige of the Commonwealth, having spent the $11,000 paid to him by Federal and State Governments on furthering Australian flying, "Smithy" planned to give up trail-blazing, lead a more leisurely life. But the Government offered only $1,000 for his famous plane Southern Cross, eventually agreeing to $3,000, then split legal straws and refused payment.

Without money Australia's great ace determined on one more stunt flight, set out from England in November, 1935, with Co-pilot Pennybridge in his single-engine monoplane, sped across Europe, East to Allahabad, headed past Akyab, out over the bay of Bengal. Then there was silence. The Royal Air Force sent up 37 planes from Penang, natives scoured the Malay coast, but Kingsford-Smith was never found.

When all hope for "Smithy" had been given up his widow found herself left to the charity of her family. When it was suggested that their boy should be made the ward of the nation the Federal Government approved, promptly forgot all about it.

Last week all Australia was aware that Lady Kingsford-Smith was left less than $1,000 in cash, that she had been unable to touch her husband's trust account, that but for her parents she would have to work.

PAGE FOR THE CHURCHES

"The Greeks Had A Word For It"

(BY SCRUTATOR)

In what is called Christian civilization we can distinguish two leading traditions. The first is that of Graeco-Roman culture (generally called "Hellenism") and the second is the tradition of the Christian Church with its Hebraic background and presuppositions. The philosophies, the scientific command of nature, which has placed the peoples of the west in their present position of power in the world, indeed, everything that pertains to modern "western civilization" has its roots in, and is, but a continuation of the ancient culture of Greece and Rome.

PYTHAGORAS AND HERACLIDES
Probably, for instance, the Greek scientist Pythagoras was the first to discover and maintain that the earth had a globular shape, and Pythagoras was born about the year 570 B.C. But even Pythagoras did not suspect that the Earth turned round under the stars. He imagined it as the centre of the Universe. We have to wait two hundred years for the advent of another Greek before it was discovered that it was the Earth itself which turned round; Heraclides of Pontus, 388-315 B.C., was the forerunner of Galileo.

Such essential knowledge, which "western civilization" generally claims for its own discovery within Christian times, that knowledge is actually part of our heritage from ancient Greece.

HELLENISM

Hellenism first made its appearance in the world about seven centuries before Christ, but the period of its greatest creative activity was during the fifth and fourth centuries B.C. It was the type of culture which produced the small city states. They spoke the Greek language, but each was independent of the other, politically, although they are recognized themselves as belonging to the race of the Hellenes.

This was a completely new type of culture. Nothing like it had ever existed before. Its distinctive intellectual quality can be described as rationalism. In previous cultural groups or societies, such as the despotic monarchies of Egypt and Mesopotamia, men's conduct had been regulated by custom, and their thoughts about the world were the hereditary lore of their forefathers. Until very recent times this was true of all the world outside the sphere of "western civilization." But the ancient Greeks were the first to challenge custom and tradition by reference to rational standards.

"A WORD FOR IT"

The Greek language alone, carried in itself a mode of rational thinking. It expressed logical thought in a way which no other language had ever succeeded in doing. What was written in the Greek language before the end of the fourth century before Christ remains among the greatest works of all human literature.

All that has been done since, in poetry, philosophy, science, political oratory, and history, by European peoples, and much that has been done and attempted by Mohammedan peoples, has had its origin in these Greek beginnings of rational thinking and writing. Greek writings contain within them a body of thought about the world, and life, and human relationships, about the significant events of history and the principles of political action, which every succeeding generation of thinking people in the Western world have built upon.

THALES OF MILETUS

When Thales of Miletus, the first recorded Greek philosopher, made the claim in the sixth century B.C. that the world was composed of water in various stages of condensation, he propounded "the first historic scientific hypothesis." "Modern Science" is only the outcome and development of the thought movement which Thales launched. In mathematics and philosophy the Greeks travelled further than they did in the natural sciences, because they lacked the instruments necessary for accurate measurement.

THE SPREAD OF GREEK CULTURE

The Greek philosopher Aristotle believed that if the Greeks and the Macedonians were to unite they would conquer the world. This happened under the leadership of the Macedonian king, Alexander. After the conquest of Alexander the world he had conquered was divided between three Macedonian chiefs, the house of Ptolemy in Egypt, the house of Seleucus in Asia, and the house of Antigonous in Macedonia. Because these were men of Greek culture and education and speech, the culture and thought which, before Alexander, had been confined to a series of small Greek city states, became the culture of vast regions. This culture never produced any individual greatness comparable to men like Socrates and Plato and Aristotle, it never produced such great literary works as it did before Alexander, but as an intellectual civilizing influence in the world it was powerfully extended.

THE ROMANS

Although the Romans spoke a different language their culture was essentially Grecian. Most educated Romans read and understood Greek books. Indeed many examples of Latin literature (including the plays of Terence and the philosophical writings of Cicero) were either translations or imitations of Greek models. In their law and organization, the Romans of two thousand years ago, were original, but in philosophy and science and the intellectual aspects of culture, they were the pupils of the Greeks. Thus the spread of Latin culture was actually the spread of Hellenism through a secondary medium.

PAX ROMANA

At the beginning of the Christian era the Pax Romana, the single government control, extended over the known world. Travelling and intercourse between nations of different countries was easier than it had ever been before. Great roads were maintained; piracy by sea and land was prosecuted by Roman authorities. Never until modern times was there so much free travelling and so free thought over the world. Horace, for instance, writes of one merchant who habitually travelled three or four times a year to the Atlantic shores.

The monsoon wind had been discovered and sailors, using it, carried Greek merchants through the Red Sea to the ports of India, and philosophers who went searching to acquire geographical knowledge. Then as now, the rich travelled "to see the sights", and troupes of professional actors, gladiators, professional rhetoricians wandered in search of wealth and fame. And then, using the same means, Christian preachers, before the end of the first century A.D. were travelling everywhere to spread the Good News of the Kingdom of God as they had learned it from Jesus of Nazareth and his friends.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG

Subject: SPIRIT

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, to-morrow, August 8, will be: "Spirit."

The Golden Text will be: "No man hath seen God at any time... Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit." (1 John 4:12,13).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations but the same Lord. And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have all been made to drink into one Spirit." (1 Cor. 12:4-7,13).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man understands spiritual existence in proportion as his treasures of Truth and Love are enlarged. Mortals must gravitate downward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off. This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace. When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in or of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness." (Pages 288, 289).

"IN LESS THAN TWO WEEKS CUTICURA CLEARED MY SKIN. IT'S THE BEST TREATMENT I HAVE EVER USED."

The Cuticura Method

1. Cleanse the skin twice a day with Cuticura Soap.
2. Use Cuticura Ointment in conjunction with the soap.

This simple, economical treatment has proved its value to millions of women all over the world. The luxuriant mildly antiseptic lather of Cuticura Soap cleanses the skin to the very depths of the pores, washes away deeply embedded dust and grime, clears and softens the skin. And to clear the skin of pimples, enlarged pores, ugly red coarse patches, irritating spots, apply Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected skin a few moments before washing with the soap.

These gentle soothing emollients are all you require to make your skin clear and healthy, your complexion smooth, lovely and attractive. Don't envy the girl whose clear skin and complexion make her so attractive.

Cuticura For Clear Healthy Skin

Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Ask for Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And for powder use Cuticura Talcum—exceptionally fine and pure, exquisitely perfumed.

CHARLIE CHAN AT THE OLYMPICS

Pitted against the most appalling odds of his career, Charlie Chan now sets a new world's record for thrills before a stadium jammed with cheering sport fans. When death fires the starting gun, the wily Chinese sleuth is off on his greatest case in "Charlie Chan at the Olympics," Twentieth Century-Fox hit featuring Warner Oland again in the title role, which opens at the Queen's Theatre to-morrow.

Earl Derr Biggers' famous Oriental detective defies the murderous threats of a death-dealing ring of international spies who strike terror into the Olympic sports arena, and who strike at Chan himself through his "number one" son, Keye Luke, in their bold efforts to seize a secret radio-control device from the government.

Katherine De Mille and C. Henry Gordon, the canny leaders of the espionage group, provide the philo-

OUR RELATIONS

New laurels and added renown for Laurel and Hardy in celebration of their tenth anniversary as the foremost comedy team on the screen! They've enacted dual roles for the first time in a full-length feature and the result is unquestionably their greatest laugh hit in their most elaborate production. Their inimitable whimsical pantomime and deft fantasy is superbly performed in the artistic background of "Our Relations," which is at the Majestic Theatre to-day.

"Our Relations," based on "The Money Box," written by England's foremost short sea-story teller, W. W. Jacobs, serves as an ideal vehicle for the film comics. It is a Stan Laurel production.

sophical sleuth with the most baffling technicalities he has ever encountered, further complicating the situation by their duping of Pauline Moore and Allan Lane, featured in the romantic leads.

THE GREAT GAMBINI

Thrills pile on thrills, and romance grows more heart-warming by the minute, in "The Great Gambini," which, with Akim Tamiroff, John Trent and Marian Marsh heading a large cast of film favourites, is showing at the Queen's Theatre to-day.

"The Great Gambini," played by Tamiroff, is a mind-reader, the favourite act of the swankiest night-club in town. His act consists of receiving sealed envelopes containing questions from the audience, holding them, still sealed, above his blindfolded medium's head, and having her "answer" them aloud.

When Marian Marsh, attending the show with her parents and fiancé, asks Tamiroff if her marriage will be happy, his medium replies that she will never marry her fiancé, John Trent, Miss Marsh's unsuccessful suitor, who is standing in the background, also hears this prediction.

The next day, the day the wedding was scheduled, Miss Marsh's fiancé is found murdered in his apartment. Detectives turn the place upside down, and find enough clues to sink a battleship. However, they do not know what to do with the clues, until Tamiroff, suddenly appearing, calmly points out the value of each one, showing clearly that every one of the murdered man's friends and acquaintances, including himself, could easily have committed the crime.

REMBRANDT

Charles Laughton has his greatest and most human characterization in Alexander Korda's production of "Rembrandt," which marks the first film to depict the life of the greatest artist the world has ever known. It is on to-day at the King's Theatre.

In this film Laughton is said to achieve a truly striking resemblance to the great Dutch Master for whom love and inspiration went hand in hand.

The film, which marks the reunion of the star and director-producer combination which gave us the unforgettable "Private Life of Henry VIII," picks up the artist's story in his youth. At that time the world was at his feet and he enjoyed a perfect marriage with the lovely Saskia, who was at one time wife, model and inspiration to him.

HOTEL HAYWIRE

Paramount lets nine comedians loose on the screen in "Hotel Haywire" and as merry a laugh-provoking riot as one could hope for is the result. The picture has its run at the Alhambra Theatre to-day.

Headed by Leo Carrillo and Lynne Overman, and including Benny Baker and Collette Lyons, George Barber, Porter Hall, Spring Byington, Chester Conklin and Teddy Hart, the comics have a holiday that left the audience laughing until the last sequence.

In addition to the comedians, Mary Carlisle, John Patterson and Colin Tapley, play important parts in the hilarious story of an astrologer who makes trouble to make money.

AT THE GARDEN PARTY

Innovations at the Royal garden party were that the King did not wear or carry gloves and that the Gentlemen of the Household, who attended their Majesties and made lanes for their progresses wore tail-coats instead of frock-coats. There were, indeed, only a few frock-coats to be seen at the party, and only one pair of spats. They were white. The eyeglass too is passing out in English society. There were fewer than a score to-day, three of them worn by women.

The presence of very tall men was a feature of the day. Even Sir John Reith, who is at least six feet four, was overtopped by several, and one very large gentleman in every way must have been six feet seven. There were a great many elderly, well-set-up men who seemed to have spent much of their life in the tropics, and it was noticeable that many of these were speaking with Indian and Arabians in their own language. The heat was not great, but one lady had to be attended to by the ambulance men.

Almost every fourth person was a notability, and it was interesting to see those who were accustomed to be the seen, being themselves those who had come to see. One noticed the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of Manchester, Lord Hewart, Lord Samuel, Lord Runciman, and Sir Thomas Inskip, and the arts were represented by Sir William Llewellyn, the president of the Royal Academy, Sir Guy Dauber, Mr. Laurence Binyon, and others.

In America a man has been operated on five times for the removal of collarstuds that he is in the habit of swallowing. There is some talk of fitting him with a zipp-fastener.

A yachtman declares that a trip in a rough sea often brings out a streak of yellow in a man. This changes rapidly to a peculiar shade of green.

THE MARRIAGE (DIVORCE) BILL

DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS

In its problem of trying to reconcile conflicting views on marriage and divorce during the heated House of Lords debate on Mr. A.P. Herbert's Marriage (Divorce) Bill, the Church of England was not unique. Long has its brother denomination, the Protestant Episcopal Church of the U.S.A., been beset with the same difficulty, and many of its more liberal, younger, clergy believe that the only solution to their difficulty lies in a more realistic evaluation of the first principles of marriage itself.

According to Rector Appellhof of Detroit's St. Thomas Church, the five main reasons for marriage failures are:—
(1) Bad physical adjustment;
(2) Lack of common interests, after the physical attraction itself has worn off;
(3) Improper training for physical relationships;
(4) Religious differences; and
(5) Childless marriages.

He believes that the main pit-falls likely to beset young married couples are a failure to realise the full nature of marriage until after the ceremony, when it is too late; lack of home training; and misuse of love before marriage.

In London, turning up in full force, for once, Peers Spiritual recently crowded the benches of the august House of Lords to debate Mr. Herbert's measure.

COBRA'S GAME

A large cobra entered the record room of the Gampola Police Court Ceylon, which is crowded with files and papers, and led a game of hide-and-seek with excited members of the Court staff, not to mention a policeman with a gun.

After many vain attempts at capturing it, a villager who happened to come on the scene offered to secure the cobra.

He was warned of the risk in searching for a cobra among so many files and papers.

He, however, walked in fearlessly, shifted the files, and in a few minutes found the intruder and brought it out holding it at arm's length by its tail.

He put the cobra into a sack and removed it.

KINGSFORD SMITH

One of the greatest losses in aviation history has been recalled by the news that an aeroplane wheel has been found on the Burmese coast, which has been established as having belonged to the machine in which Sir Charles Kingsford Smith and his companion Mr. T. Pethybridge were lost on a flight from England to Australia nearly two years ago. The tragedy which enveloped this great Australian aviator shocked the whole world, for it robbed aviation of one of its foremost pioneers.

When no news came through after Sir Charles and Mr. Pethybridge had left Rangoon in continuation of their flight, it was feared that the stretch between Rangoon and Victoria Point had claimed a victim. And it seems to have so happened, though at one time it was reported that Sir Charles had crashed in Perak.

So strong was the belief that Sir Charles had crashed in Perak that search parties were organized from Kuala Kangsar, but no definite

DESTROYER IN COLLISION

London, Aug. 5. The Destroyer Flotilla leader, Faulkner, which collided with a steamer in thick fog off the Usant, arrived at Portsmouth to-day where it was found to be only slightly damaged in the upper deck and no important equipment was affected.

The steamer was only slightly damaged and proceeded on her course to Hull.

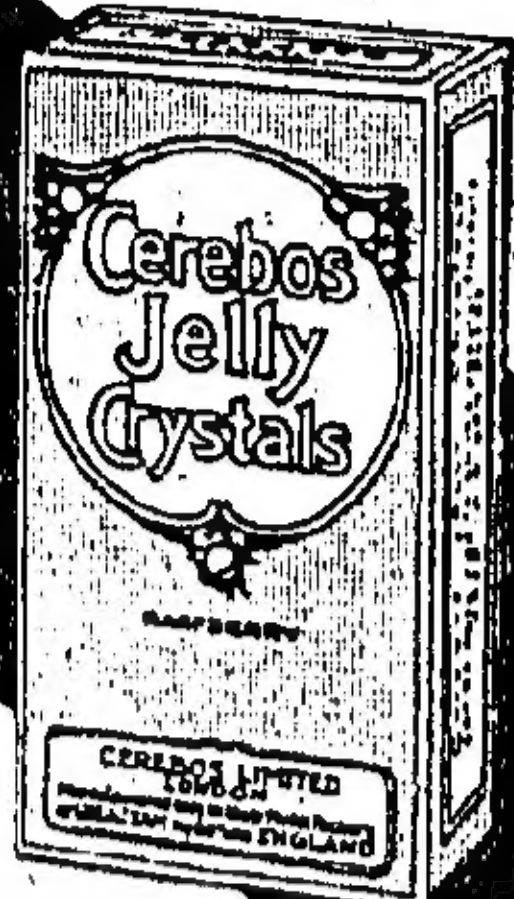

The Faulkner was on the way with four destroyers to the North-Sea of Spain to relieve other British warships which had been there in connection with the Non-Intervention Patrol scheme.

trace of the famous airman was to be found. His absence did not cause search parties to be organized from Kuala Kangsar only from Singapore even the R.A.F. went out to scour Malayan waters and the Burma coast, but all to no avail.

ANGLO-ITALIAN RELATIONS

French Press Comment

London, Aug. 5. Messages from Paris reporting the French press comment on the exchange of letters between Mr. Neville Chamberlain and Signor Mussolini show that there is a general appreciation in France in the nature of the case, and by virtue of the established principles of the British foreign policy, nothing derogatory to the friendly understanding which exists between the British and French Governments is involved in the more cordial atmosphere which should result in the relations between London and Rome from the Premier's correspondence.

The attitude of the majority of the French commentators is warmly welcomed in London where the disposition, evident for some time in a certain quarter to regard the improvement of a country's relations in one direction as necessarily implying their deterioration in another, is strongly deprecated.

The Foreign Secretary's speeches have repeatedly emphasised the desire of His Majesty's Government to promote and maintain friendly relations all round with equally strong determination that new friendships shall not be secured at the expense of old.—British Wireless.

ROBBERY ON JUNK

Technical Point Discussed

That they had committed an armed robbery was the charge alleged against six Chinese, mostly fishermen, who appeared before Mr. G. S. Kennedy-Skipiton, District Officer South, at the District Office South yesterday morning.

They were charged with having on July 31, armed with a revolver and knives, boarded Class IV Boat No. 249 whilst it was lying at Lung Shun Wan, High Island in this Colony, and robbed Kong Chun, master of the boat and others of 37 sacks of sugar, 49 tins of kerosene, one case of matches, four suits of clothing, one pair of trousers and one singlet.

There was some discussion as to whether the place where the alleged robbery had taken place was in the Southern District and if the case should be tried by the District Officer South.

The case was formally remanded for one week and it will probably be tried by the District Officer North at Taiipo.

The six accused were Chan Wing Choi 37 fisherman, Tang Sang, 38, alias Cheng Sang, junk master, Ng Kau, 34, fish dealer, Shek Sang, 30, fisherman, Ma Fung Yiu, 24, fisherman and Wong Hon 27, fisherman.

Wong Hon was further charged with having in his possession a revolver. He was not legally represented but second and third accused were defended by Mr. H. A. de B. Botelho and the other three were represented by Mr. Peter Sin.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

Official Strength Figures

London, Aug. 5. Latest official figures of Royal Air Force strength in air-craft and personnel indicate the expansion programme, launched in 1935 and greatly augmented in 1936, as making very satisfactory progress. New service stations and armament training camps already opened total 22. The strength of Metropolitan Air Force—home defence units, army co-operation squadrons and coastal command—is now 123 squadrons, increase of 137 per cent. over pre-expansion strength, equipped with 1,542 first line aircraft. This is approximately 200 aeroplanes less than the first line total of Metropolitan Air Force strength envisaged for the end of the programme.

Behind the ultimate total of 1,750 first line air-craft and 900 or so aircraft forming the first line of overseas squadrons, and the Fleet Air Arm, will be full war reserves of aircraft armament, equipment and supplies sufficient to justify the claim that the Royal Air Force will be second to none in strength for defence and counter attack.

Recruitment and training of personnel have made giant strides. Since April 1935 approximately 3,500 pilots have been selected for service and 3,100 have begun training. The total number of airmen entered since that date is 22,300.

This increase, great though it is, is dwarfed by the increase in striking power made available by the creation of new types of British fighting and bombing aeroplanes. These machines, built to the most up-to-date formulae and powered with engines of unrivalled efficiency and trustworthiness, are vastly more formidable weapons than their fore-runners. Squadron after squadron is receiving bombing aeroplanes capable of great speeds and carrying big loads over distances demanded by strategy of home and imperial protection. At the same time power in defensive combat is being augmented by a supply of fighters more heavily armed than any of their fore-runners yet capable of speeds of well over 300 miles hourly.—British Wireless.

NON-INTERVENTION PROPOSALS

London, Aug. 5. The meeting of the Chairman's Sub-Committee of the London-Intervention Committee will be held at the Foreign Office tomorrow afternoon. The last meeting of the Sub-Committee was on July 30 when after 3 hours discussion of the replies received regarding the British proposals for ending the deadlock, was adjourned to enable the Governments to consider the situation in the light of the discussion. Since then the chairman, Lord Plymouth, has kept in close touch with representatives on the Committee. To-day he had a talk with Dr. Woermann, the German Charge d'Affaires.—British Wireless.

Mr. Ormsby-Gore Replies Sharply To Criticisms

Geneva, Aug. 5.

A certain amount of criticism was levelled at Great Britain at to-day's meeting of the Mandates Commission here and Mr. William Ormsby-Gore, Secretary for the Colonies, replied sharply to the view that Britain was trying to evade her responsibilities under the mandate and make the League of Nations and Mandates Commission responsible for the policy completely misrepresented the attitude of His Majesty's Government.

The fact should not be lost sight of he asserted, that Britain was administering the mandate on behalf of the League of Nations.

Meanwhile, at Zurich, the Zionist Congress proceeded. There it was decided that its political commission should meet in secret. This means that the debates on the proposed partitioning of Palestine will be behind closed doors. The next public session, it was announced to-day, will not be held before Monday.

Speakers who favoured open sessions argued that after the speeches of Dr. Chaim Weizmann and Dr. M. M. Ussishkin, chairman of the Congress and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Jewish National Fund, respectively, there were no more secrets left to be disclosed, especially as Dr. Weizmann had expressed himself in favour of a modified partition plan. But the advocates of a closed session contended that open debates on the partitioning plan might lead to a split in the Zionist movement at a time when unity was necessary.

To-day's vote is interpreted here, according to the Jewish tele-

REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES

London, Aug. 5. The question of the repatriation of the Basque refugee children in the United Kingdom has been discussed between the Foreign Office and the National Joint Committee for Spanish relief in view of the reports that conditions in Bilbao will shortly be sufficiently normal for the children to return home. Matters, however, are somewhat complicated by the fact that many of the parents have left Bilbao and are scattered in other parts of Spain. GRAVE CONFLICT UNAVOIDABLE

Paris, Aug. 5. "China will continue to the last to resist Japanese expansion, and thus it seems that a grave conflict between the two powers is unavoidable," said Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador to Paris, to a representative of "L'Intransigeant," to-day. As regards the possibility of terminating the tension, the Ambassador continued, this can only take place after an explicit intervention of the powers who desire to see peace preserved or after financial exhaustion or economic bankruptcy of the aggressor. "To be sure, all countries have their domestic troubles, but they will have to bear in mind that military aggression, wherever it occurs, constitutes a direct violation of international peace and disturbs the security of all peoples of the world."

Referring to the origin of the conflict, Dr. Wellington Koo said that Japan made the alleged kidnapping of a soldier, whose whereabouts were discovered within 24 hours, an excuse for military intervention. He continues:

"The present Japanese attack has been carefully planned and sanctioned by the Emperor. The originator of the plan of attack is General Tanaka, when he was still Premier, at the time of the publication of his notorious 'Tanaka Memorial'."

"The excessively conciliatory attitude shown by Soviet Russia at the time of the Russo-Japanese Amur incident has served to strengthen Japan, as she was trying to sound the state of the ground, before venturing on it. The European situation and the repercussions of the Spanish issue gave the Japanese leaders the impression that they could rely on comparatively full freedom of action. Added to this was the rapid development of China, in the face of which Japan could not put military action aside any more if it did not want to lose the last chance to gain her ends in China."—Francisco News Service.

THE SERVICES

(By Air Mail, London, July 24)

ROYAL NAVY

Their Lordships have decided to reinstitute the normal period of training for special entry (public school) and direct entry (mercantile marine) cadets before joining the Fleet as midshipmen. Last September, among certain expedients to increase the numbers of sub-lieutenants, it was necessary to reduce the period spent by these cadets in the training cruiser from three terms to two. The longer period is now to be restored.

A new fleet order states that for the present, however, the first term will be spent in H.M.S. Excellent, gunnery school, where the cadets will be accommodated in H.M.S. Erebus, turret drillship, and instructed on similar lines to the batches sent to that ship in January and May, 1937. The second and third terms will be spent in the Vindictive, the normal cruises being undertaken. Officers will continue to spend two years at sea as midshipmen. The additional period spent under training as cadets will delay the promotion of the officers concerned to midshipmen, acting sub-lieutenant and sub-lieutenant. Since, however, the reduced periods under training do not affect the date of promotion to lieutenant (extra time being spent as sub-lieutenant corresponding to the shorter time as cadet) this promotion will not be affected by the change now ordered. The new instructions apply to executive and engineering cadets. Paymaster cadets will spend their first two terms after entry in the seagoing training cruiser as hitherto and then proceed to ships of the Fleet in that rank, their promotion to paymaster midshipmen being deferred until the end of a year from entry as formerly.

WEDDING

The marriage took place recently at Holy Trinity, Slerna, Malta, of Lieutenant-Commander Julius John Casement, R.N., eldest son of Admiral and Mrs. J. M. Casement, of Orchard, Pulborough, Sussex, and Miss Margaret Mary Willis Price, younger daughter of Canon J. and Mrs. Willis Price, of Crougham Rectory, Brackley, Northamptonshire. The bride's father officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. Clayton.

The bride, who was given away by Admiral Casement, wore a gown of pin-tucked chiffon with knife-pleated chiffon falling into a train. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a headress of orange-blossom, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis. The two bridesmaids—Miss Peggy Dupree and Miss Anne Royle (cousins of the bride)—wore dresses of white crepe with sashes lined with pale blue to match their feathered headresses. They carried bouquets of plum-bago. Lieutenant Cdr. Alexander was best man, and, like the bridegroom, wore full-dress uniform. Brother officers of H.M.S. Devonshire formed a guard of honour as the bride and bridegroom left the church. A reception was held at the Slerna Club, after which the bride and bridegroom left to spend their honeymoon at Capri. The bride went away in a dress of navy-blue and white printed crepe de Chine with a navy organdie hat.

MANSLAUGHTER VERDICT

A verdict of manslaughter by two persons unknown, was recorded by Mr. K. M. A. Barnett, sitting as Coroner at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday in the continued inquiry into the death of Chan Chau, a pigwash carrier who was found dead at 'Sal Tau' village, Kowloon City, on February 28.

The inquest was opened on May 22 when it was disclosed that, prior to his death, Chan was seen fighting with two men. As deceased's wife was not then present in Court, the further hearing was adjourned "sine die."

Yesterday morning Tam Yin, deceased's wife, gave evidence of identification and said she knew of no trouble between her husband and other men.

HEROIN PILLS
FACTORYThree Men Sent
To Sessions

The case against Chan Chung,
31, Yui Chung, 23 and Cha Sze-
tung, 32, who made use of No. 18
Second Street for the purpose of a heroin pills factory was resumed
yesterday at the Central Magistracy before Mr. S.F. Balfour. The defendants were charged with possession of 25,000 heroin pills.

Kong Yung-san gave evidence that the third defendant was in his employ two years ago. Witness stated that after defendant had left him he knew very little of the man's movements and was aware
that he was a mah-jongg set repairer.

After cross-examination by Mr.
M.J. Abbott, Assistant Crown
Solicitor, the case was concluded
and the accused were committed to stand trial at the Criminal Sessions.

ANOTHER CASE

Kotchi Yamaji, Japanese, aged 40, Tsang Kat, aged 28 and Tang Kwok, 28 appeared before Mr. K.
Keen at the Central Magistracy
yesterday charged with possession of dangerous drugs at No. 4 Luat Road on July 15. The accused were remanded to August 13 after Mr. F. H. Loseby, representing the first defendant, had consulted with
S. R. O. Grimmit for the prosecution.

NO EVIDENCE

Dangerous Driving
Charge Dismissed

Tam Chan was summoned before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for driving in a dangerous manner on July 5.

In evidence, Miss S. M. Bancroft, who was the complainant, said
that on the night in question,
about 9 p.m. when she was starting her car intending to go to the Shamshuipo Market, defendant's vehicle came into collision with her car, near the middle of the road. Witness said that her car was parked on the right side of the road and on going to the market she cut straight across the road without knowing that defendant was coming from the direction of Castle Peak Road.

Mr. F. H. Loseby, who appeared for the defence, said that complainant's way of driving across the road was dangerous for any vehicle coming from defendant's direction as there was a portion of hill blocking the full view at the junction of Tai Po Road and Castle Peak Road.

His Worship remarked that there was no evidence to show that defendant had been driving dangerously, and discharged Tam accordingly.

a bankrupt gambler's promise to pay." As Dr. Chou remarked to us yesterday, Japan has been allowed to trade for far too long
on a peace-loving nation's trusting disposition and so, the Kuomintang statesman contended,
China must now have a complete
show-down to terminate this exasperating trickery once and for all time.

Regarded in the clear light of retrospect that seems to us a perfectly reasonable attitude to expect China to adopt at the present time.

It is decidedly insulting to the normal intelligence for Japan to persist in reiterating that she has neither impaired the independence of China nor her interests and "has by no means the intention to do so." If there was one scintilla of evidence to substantiate the sincerity of Japan's spoken and written word to this purpose,
then we would feel greatly relieved; but, unfortunately, that evidence is lacking.

The territorial integrity, unification and prosperity of China
can well be attained by China herself, thanks to the revival of her national energies and of her own efforts. Japan's "assistance" never has been solicited
by China in these connections,
and the idea that Japan—the most self-centred and conceited
nation in the world—should essay
to play the graciously humble role of a Good Samaritan is just sheer burlesque. The act won't
"go down."

Her actions Japan has shown that not only is it her purpose to encroach upon the rights of China in China, but also upon the rights of other "Powers in China. We have, for instance, been reliably informed that in Manchuria, as a result of Japan's policy of "peaceful penetration," the average decrease in "foreign" businesses has been
from an index figure of fifty to the almost invisible figure of one.
What guarantees have the "Powers,
who all subscribe to the Open Door policy, that Japan
will not play her game of "peaceful penetration" to the bitter end so long as that nation's encroachment on China's territory
is permitted?

Backed by the unanimous and enthusiastic support of academicians as well as soldiers and statesmen of South China, the pleas of the veteran Kuomintang leader, Dr. Chou, should not go unheeded.

Our opinion is that China's mind is already made-up. Action cannot now be much longer delayed. The masses of China are growing very restive. That is realised by Dr. Chou and his Kuomintang colleagues. Hence
his mission to the Generalissimo.

Aunt Lovisa Comes To Stockholm

Yesterday the King was crowned here in Stockholm. But it rained, so we did not see the grand event. Anyhow, I am glad there was a coronation, as it brought Aunt Lovisa to Stockholm.

I hardly think it was a pleasure for Aunt Lovisa herself. She could not see any of the coronation procession, which must have been a great disappointment to her, as she had made the long journey to Stockholm just to see royalty.

She had bought herself in Karlstad a pretty summer wrap and a hat, trimmed in tulle and rosebuds. But there was no one who noticed that bit of finery, as she had to stand all the while under an umbrella.

But for the her coming was a godsend. I did not know that she was here until I got back from Upsala on Sunday. A letter from Mama greeted me, which said that Aunt Lovisa was going to Stockholm to see the coronation
and would arrive Saturday evening.

I was tired after the Upsala trip, and sad also, so that I was not very happy over the news
that Auntie had come to Stockholm.

I put on my coat and hat,
of course, and went out to look up my aunt. I found her one flight up in a small house. Just off the half was a bright, prettily furnished room, and there stood Auntie
before the mirror, trying on the new spring cloak and the bonnet
with the rose-coloured buds.

I was so surprised that I stopped at the threshold and looked at her. I had never thought of Aunt Lovisa as a pretty woman,
but as I saw her now she looked radiant. Not only was she beautiful, but she had brought with her something very precious. It may sound foolish to say it, but I thought that she had brought with her all Marbacka's.

She had such soft cheeks and
such kindly eyes, and such small, plump hands! She couldn't have come any place in the world but Marbacka.

She was so good that nothing could ever make her angry, and she never worried about anything
serious, but only about trifling
things. She knew nothing of evil, or of the dangers and horrors that beset one on every hand in a big city like Stockholm.

She was only a Marbacka child
—a sweet old Marbacka child.
It was well that Aunt Lovisa had come to Stockholm, so that Mar-

backa loomed large my thoughts
again.

There I would forget all that had made me sad, for at Marbacka
there were no sorrows.—From

SHORT STORIES

"Pharaoh with His Wagons." By Rupert Croft-Cooke. (Jarrold, 1s. 6d.)

Mr. Croft-Cooke is not O. Henry,
or even quite Stacey Aumonier,
but he has the knack of writing
a short story that gets you straight into the centre of interest and holds you there till he has done with you. Of course, each tale is not on a rigid level of merit with every other. One or two are "chestnuts"; one or two are built upon obvious wild improbabilities
—take, for instance, the story of the world-renowned film-star of whom her former admirer has never heard because he does not happen to frequent the cinema.
He still lives in the provincial town of her own origin. Anyone who knows the public, provincial or not, will find it hard to believe that so blazing a local luminary
could escape notice locally while posters and picture-papers exist,
not to mention the tongues of the admirers envious.

Some of the stories have not been published before. Others have appeared in the better-class of magazine or paper. They are divided into subjects, such as "Crime and Punishment," "Not quite Human Stories," and the like—an interesting collection.

HOW TO RIDE

"It is necessary for every rider,
whether groom, rider, hunting
man or polo player, if he wishes
to become a horseman, to know
not only how to make himself
understood, but also to understand what his horse wishes to convey to him. There is, in fact, a language that has to be learned by both mount and man, and until this language has been learned there can be no skilled horsemanship."

That is the text of Lieutenant-Colonel Sidney G. Gold-schmidt's "Skilled Horsemanship" (Country Life, 12s. 6d.), which deals with everything from buying a horse and running a stable to bit, whip and spur. It is a very sensible, simple book, well illustrated to make the author's points clear; and when discussing (and that is the basis of all the arguments) the psychology of rider
and mount it is commendably free
of loose-thinking—witness the admirable note on "Sympathy" on pages 83 and 84.

Scout Movement's Big Increase In Membership LARGEST INCREASE EVER KNOWN

The Boy Scout World Census figures for 1937, which have just been compiled by the Boy Scouts' International Bureau, reveal a startling increase of 340,000, with a total of 2,812,074.

The increase in ranks and sections are as follows:—Scouters an increase of 87,415; Rover Scouts an increase of 13,114; Scouts an increase of 133,752; Sea Scouts an increase of 104,344.

This is the largest increase in membership the Movement has ever known. The world census is taken every two years, the last census being in 1935 when the total was 2,472,014.

The Boy Scout Movement is now
in its thirtieth year and since that little experimental camp on Brownsea Island, just off the Dorset coast, in 1907, with only enough
boys to make an average size Boy Scout Troop, the Movement has grown, or metaphorically, the acorn
has grown into a tree and has spread its branches into almost every country in the world. There are now Boy Scouts in 49 countries.

At the end of this month Boy Scouts from 33 countries of the world will meet together for the Fifth World Jamboree, in Holland.
25,000 boys will try to put into practice the great ideals of world friendship set before them by their beloved Chief Scout, Lord Baden-Powell. At the Jamboree they will make their own city—a city of canvas—where they will live together as brothers for two weeks.
They will show the world that at any rate the boys of the nations of the earth can live happily together, without showing any distinction between class, colour and creed. World Peace is the ideal of every member of the Boy Scout Movement, and its steady increase in numbers must cause satisfaction
to all who have this ideal at heart.

The first Boy Scout world census took place in 1922, two years after the formation of the Boy Scouts International Bureau, when the total was 1,131,244. Boy Scouts in

MALAYAN REVIEW

Malayan Rotary

The establishment of an office of Rotary International in Singapore to meet the demands of Rotary in Asia which has now accomplished by the return, from a world tour, of Mr. Richard Sidney, the new Secretary of Rotary International in Asia, constitutes yet another important landmark in the history of Rotary in Malaya, which began only a few years ago.

It is fitting that Singapore should have been selected as the centre in which to establish the office, for it is the hub of the 80th district of Rotary International which includes Siam, Indo-China and Borneo as well, and since the institution of the movement the 80th district has shown itself to be one of the most progressive districts of this world-wide organisation, even to the extent of having provided a vice-president of Rotary International, Col. Cecil Rae.

Apart from that, however, the geographical situation of Singapore is ideal for an office of this nature, for it serves India and China equally well, and Australia too. There remains the fact that the international aspect of the Movement, which is one of its strongest foundation stones, is best illustrated in the Singapore Rotary Club.

Canning Of Fish

Experiments in the canning of Malayan fish, carried out during 1936, met with considerable success and are to be continued, states
Mr. W. Birtwistle, director of fisheries, in his annual report for the year, just issued.

The year's catches by Malayan fishermen totalled 80,000 tons, of a value of $2,000,000.

With the exception of a prolonged spell of bad weather on the East Coast during the fishing season, says the report, weather conditions have been normal, and fishing, except in this area, has been carried on without interruption. Catches are up to the average and prices have been good.

There were not less than 25,662 fishermen employed in 1936 of whom 13,745 were Malays, 9,701 Chinese, 1,752 Japanese, 352 Indians, 38 of Portuguese descent, 86 Siamese and 8 others. This figure does not include a large number of people who are engaged indirectly in the industry, and it could safely be increased by 50 per cent.
if these are included.

The revenue derived from fishing boat and fishing gear licences amounted to $28,283.

The experimental vessel equipped with a refrigeration plant was fitted out and commenced operations after a long delay in securing delivery of the refrigeration plant from England, which eventually arrived in time to allow two trips before the end of the year.

The fish are collected as they are caught by the Chinese purse seine netters who operate their nets by hand off Pangkor Island, Dindings. Their storage in the refrigerator cannot be delayed, since the fish deteriorate and soften so rapidly that a delay of over two hours before the fish are frozen may damage them. Results have been encouraging, and the chief object of the experiment viz., to put on the Singapore market, Kempong, in bulk, after prolonged storage has been achieved.

Coronation Memorials

The question of suitable permanent Coronation memorials still exercises the minds of committees in various parts of Malaya, and the form they should take is the subject of discussion in many centres. The planting of trees and donations to charitable institutions are among the many methods suggested of utilising funds, but the opinion now widely prevalent in the F.M.S. that the various committees should get together and pool their resources is one which appears to have much to commend it. Where such diversity of opinion exists among the smaller committees, however, it seems somewhat doubtful if sufficient unanimity on this point could be secured to enable such a scheme to be proceeded with.

One of the chief advantages of this plan would be that the F.M.S. would be able to erect a memorial worthy of such an occasion.
The pooling of funds would provide more than sufficient for such a purpose and would, moreover, leave a balance which could be utilised for the charitable donations already proposed. The F.M.S. is a combination of States, but it is one of its desires to commemorate the Coronation of a beloved King-Emperor and his Consort. It seems reasonable to anticipate that unity could be carried a little further in the direction indicated.

The Price Of Tin

There are many who are ready to say that the price of tin, at around £280, is too high, and recently there have been dark hints at a possible revival of the buffer pool. This has aroused indignant protest in Malaya, for past experience of pools has not been happy, and the general desire is that tin control should be left as free from complications as possible. So far from the price being too high, however, producers feel with good reason that it represents no more than a fair return under all the circumstances. It has to be remembered that the cost of producing tin has risen greatly. A dredge which used to cost £100,000 landed on the property and ready for use now costs anything from £170,000 to £200,000, owing to the increase in cost of materials and labour and, indeed, the great difficulty in obtaining supplies at all. When the increased price of equipment is taken into account, together with the high price that tin land demands, it is obvious that there must be a high price for the metal to justify operations.

Scouts' Model Aeroplane
Exhibition At World
Jamboree

Scout aviation enthusiasts, who are to attend the World Jamboree
in Holland, have a grand opportunity of exhibiting their homemade model aeroplanes.

A Model Aeroplane Exhibition
has been arranged to take place during the Jamboree and will be in the nature of a competition for two classes of models:—(A) for non-flying models of existing types of aeroplanes; and (B) for flying models driven by elastic.

Owing to the anticipation of a large number of exhibits, the British contingent may only enter nine models in each class.

Two exceedingly fine models will definitely be sent for the exhibition: One is a model of the D.H.
Comet, scale 1/4-inch to a foot, sent by Patrol Leader G. Old, of the 1st Darwin Troop, and the other a model of the "Blackburn Shark," scale one-seventh-inch, sent by Patrol Second V. T. Samson of the Surrey Contingent.

Now that Scouts have begun to form Air Patrols in their Troops,
the exhibition should be a centre
of attraction at the Jamboree to all air-minded youth.

NORTH CHINA SITUATION

GENERAL PEI CHUNG HSI SPEAKS

Nanking, Aug. 6.

Yesterday and to-day General Pei Chung-hsi, Vice-Commander-in-Chief of the Fifth Route Army of Kwangsi, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek met to discuss and consider the situation in North China.

The meetings of these two famous leaders were most cordial and agreeable, particularly regarding plans in connection with the coming campaign for the expulsion of the Japanese invaders.

It is said that General Pei Chung-hsi expressed great confidence in the success of China's war preparations and China's future, the more so, since Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was in enjoying of excellent health.

General Pei declared that before leaving Kweichow, one thing weighed heavily on his mind, but this weight of anxiety had now completely vanished.

"Although the military resources and equipment of Japan are far superior to China's," General Pei said, "what has China to fear, when the courageous and undaunted spirit of the soldiers of the 'Northern Expedition' of the Revolution in 1926 is remembered."

"At the time of this Northern Expedition," General Pei continued, "the men power and military resources and equipment of the Northern militarists exceeded ours by ten to one, but still we defeated them."

"Regarding the superiority of the enemy and the disadvantages we have to suffer, I am confident that the patriotic spirit of our men power will be sufficient to cope with Japanese field-guns and war planes," General Pei concluded.—

CHINA'S WAR POLICY

Shanghai, Aug. 6.
It is ascertained that a reliable source that conferences of the leading Chinese army leaders are being held to discuss and consider the necessary measures for dealing with the situation in North China.

It is reported that as soon as the military preparations for an extended campaign for the expulsion of the Japanese invaders is completed, the united Chinese armies will commence operations for the recovery of Peiping and Tientsin.

It is said that the Chinese troops at the front are impatiently waiting for orders to advance, and are burning to meet the ruthless Japanese invaders. Once war is declared and fighting begins, China will not rest until the Japanese invaders are driven out of North China and Manchuria and finally destroyed.—

DR. KUNG MIGHT EXTEND HIS TOUR

Paris, Aug. 5.

Fresh from successful negotiations in Washington and London, Dr. H. H. Kung, China's Finance Minister, arrived here to-day to wind up several matters, and announced he might visit several other Continental capitals before returning to China.

In a statement to the Press Dr. Kung declared the Japanese militarists in North China, against the saner opinion of some of Japan's own leaders, seemed to be deliberately aggravating the situation.

The Chinese people were naturally peace-loving, Dr. Kung went on but their rights, independence and existence as a nation could not be sacrificed.

"To-day we are united and ready to defend our fundamental rights at any cost. If a major conflict occurs the responsibility will rest with Japan," he went on.

"I am confident if the influence of world opinion is brought home to the people and responsible statesmen in Japan, their counsel may prevail over the aggressive war party in Tokyo and spare Japan, as well as China, and probably the world at large, the consequences of a major conflict," Dr. Kung concluded.—

THE WESTERN PACT

Four Powers Should Set Up
Platform Of Peace

GERMAN PRESS VIEW

Berlin, August 6.

An apparently inspired leader on the Western Pact appeared in Thursday's "Berliner Tageblatt".

Germany, Britain, Italy and France, as the four biggest European Powers with vitally interwoven interests, the paper states, can make it possible, for the benefit of all, to build a bridge between the status quo and revision and to set up a platform of peace on the square bases of Central and Western Europe.

The west, or rather France, in her first post war policy created only war-fronts in Eastern Europe and to create a system of peace there still remains an open problem. To-day the four Powers will stand forth as proper advocates of European affairs if only they have enough confidence in each other and also the requisite self-confidence to take up the fight against Bolshevism.

There is certainly no lack of opportunities for practical co-operation. There are four main questions which have given themselves a rendezvous on the bridge leading from the status quo to peaceful revision, and are there waiting to be dealt with: armament equalisation, economic solidarity, minority question and the problem of Mandates. They can all be usefully dealt with and brought a stage nearer to solution if they are only handled in a constructive manner and with an eye to peace. No better warrant for carrying out this determination could be had than the four Powers themselves, with or without pact.—

NEW CLUB HOUSE

Necessity Stressed At K.F.C. Annual Meeting

TRIBUTE TO MR. T. A. MITCHELL:
MR. R. LAPSLEY ELECTED
LIFE MEMBER

"For many years the necessity for building a new Club House, or at least putting the present one in good order and condition, has been apparent, but owing to lack of funds and also perhaps a little lack of interest in the Club, the matter has been postponed from time to time, and only urgent repairs have been carried out. The time has now come when something must be done about it," remarked Major C. M. Manners, Vice-President, when he presided at the 23rd annual general meeting of the Kowloon Football Club yesterday, in the absence of Mr. T. A. Mitchell (President) who was indisposed.

Mr. T. A. Mitchell

Addressing the meeting the Chairman said:—
You will note the sum of $400 has been written off as final depreciation on the Tennis Court, which has disappeared to make room for the bowling green. The latter as you must agree is a fine asset to the Club, and its splendid condition is very largely due to the fatherly interest of our Chairman. The cost of laying the green was met by several members of the Club by gift or loan, and the best way we can show our appreciation is to rally round and make it popular.

We thank our Hon. Treasurer, for the hard and efficient work he has done during the year. A good Treasurer is not always too popular, except at the end of a prosperous year when he can produce an agreeable balance sheet; this Mr. Bliss has done without I hope making himself too unpopular. The results of the activities of our Football teams set out in the report, and although we are not doing so well as we did, say about ten years ago, we have the makings of two excellent teams and hope to give some of our friendly rivals a series of surprises next season.

MR. BLISS THANKED

Before I go any further I want to thank our Hon. Secretary for doing his job conscientiously and well, and also for all the good work Mr. Bliss has done for the Football teams. Before leaving football matters, I would like to ask both the players and members of the Club to think a little more kindly of their Selection Committee; they do their best to pick a good team and at the same time give a chance to all the talent at their disposal.

I now formally propose that the report and statement of accounts for the year ending June 30, 1937 be adopted.

The report was unanimously adopted.

CLUB HOUSE

The Chairman continued:—As the report and accounts have been passed I now draw your attention to the Club House; for many years the necessity for building a new Club House, or at least putting the present one in good order and condition, has been apparent, but owing to lack of funds and also perhaps a little lack of interest in the Club, the matter has been postponed from time to time, and only urgent repairs have been carried out.

The time has now come when something must be done about it—I am quite sure every member wants to have a comfortable Club House, a place to which he can bring his friends with pleasure and pride and worthy of carrying the K.F.C. flag. We have cogitated and put forward ideas for a considerable time but had to reject them all because we could not recommend them to you with any degree of certainty. A short time ago our Mr. C. M. Hall proposed a scheme which immediately received acclamation and will I anticipate receive the approval and support of every member of the Club.

SUGGESTION

Briefly, the suggestion is this:—To reconstruct the Club House we require the sum of $6,500.

It is proposed that this sum be raised as follows:—
From funds at the disposal of the Club, $1,000.

Ten Members will lend to the Club $100 each without interest, $1,000.

We are promised a private loan of $1,000 at 5 per cent. per annum, $1,000.

Assessment, $1,500 leaving a balance of $2,000 which we hope to obtain on loan from our Bankers.

Now the assessment part of the programme needs some explanation: In the first place it must be clearly understood that the scheme cannot go through without help from every member of the Club, as the individual promises of assistance I have mentioned will not be forthcoming without an undertaking from Members to do their bit. If you want a comfortable Club House you must help us to get it, and the Assessment proposed is that you authorize your Committee to add one dollar per month to each member's monthly bill until such time as the cost of reconstructing the Club House has been liquidated.

I am convinced that Mr. Hall's scheme is a good one and can be brought to a successful conclusion with your assistance—I know we can rely on your support, and therefore have no hesitation in putting the motion forward.

If any member can propose an alternative method of raising the necessary funds which will be fair and equitable to all members your Committee will be only too glad to consider it; I personally feel that not one of us who wishes for the continued prosperity of the Club can afford to cavil at the proposal. If we want a decent Club House we must pay for it, and it is only right that the burden should be borne equally by all of us. The incoming Committee will undoubtedly discontinue the assessment as soon as it becomes apparent that funds are available from other sources to liquidate the debt, and any member who feels disinclined to assist the Club in the way I have outlined has no right to expect to enjoy the privileges of the Club. I now formally propose that the Committee be authorized to raise the sum of $6,500 for Club House renovating by means of borrowing $4,000 from the sources I have indicated, applying $1,000 from Club funds, and assessing members $1 per month to obtain the balance of $1,500 and thereafter the assessment to be applied to liquidating the loans.

MR. MITCHELL TOASTED

In the course of the meeting the health and prosperity of Mr. Mitchell was proposed by the Chairman and responded to with enthusiasm.

It was also proposed by Major Manners that an Honorary Life Membership be granted to Mr. R. Lapsley who had been "through thick and thin" with the Club. Mr. Lapsley was the oldest member.

Mr. Lapsley thanks the Chairman and the members and said that he would do his best for the Club.

Mr. G. G. Wood, who had been rendering most valuable assistance to the Club for many years was also elected an honorary member.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The officers elected for the ensuing season 1937-38 were as follows:—

President: T. A. Mitchell; Vice-President: Major C. M. Manners; Hon. Sec. Convenor: L. Bones;

RANGER RETAINS TROPHY

America's Cup Victory

Newport, R. I., Aug. 5.
Great Britain's challenger, the Endeavour II, failed in the fourth race of the America's Cup series to-day, and the owner, Mr. T. O. M. Sopwith, had to submit that he was not only out-paced by the American defender, Mr. Harold Vanderbilt's Ranger, but also out-maneuvred. Ranger won four straight to retain the trophy.

The 15 mile an hour wind was in Endeavour's favour. Heavier and a strong sea boat, Endeavour's backers had been praying for just such a day to show what their craft could do. But Britain's hopes were dashed cruelly when Endeavour crossed the starting line ahead of the gun, and had to turn back and start again. Ranger thus gained an early lead on the 30-mile triangular course and never surrendered it.

Both boats carried mainsails, staysails and big quadrilateral jibs, and footed through crisp water at a fine pace.

Ranger led one hour 15 minutes from the start. On the windward leg Endeavour indulged in a tacking match hoping to gain valuable seconds by her smarter handling of headsails and getting a clear wind. But the Ranger was every bit as smart and continued to pull away. She rounded the first buoy half a mile ahead, in the unofficial time of 1 hour 17 minutes 55 seconds, beating the record established by Endeavour I for the windward leg in 1934, 1 hour 18 minutes 19 seconds. Endeavour II's time for this leg was 1 hour 20 minutes 45 seconds.

GAP CLOSED
Both boats remained on the starboard tack for half an hour after rounding the buoy, and the Endeavour slightly closed the gap. But Ranger's quadrilateral Genoa jib and reaching foresail were drawing better than Endeavour's balloon jib and medium staysail, and she rounded the second buoy still a half a mile in the lead.

Ranger's elapsed time then was 2 hours 15 minutes, and Endeavour's was 2 hours 19 minutes, less the time lost at the start.

Ranger retained a commanding lead on the homeward stretch, though this was the closest race of the series. The defender set up a record of 3 hours seven minutes 49 seconds beating Endeavour I's time of 3 hours 9 minutes 1 second for the triangular course established in 1931.

WHY NOT OLD BOAT?

Endeavour II's time was 3 hours 11 minutes 28 seconds.

Yachtsmen have been asking if the challenger's first and most important mistake was not the racing of Endeavour II instead of Endeavour I, the older boat.

It is pointed out that Endeavour I beat Ranger in a friendly race before the contest proper, a thing which Endeavour II has failed to do yet. Moreover, it was Endeavour I whose records were lowered on the course to-day, and many believe the British boat might have improved on them herself.—Reuter.

Phillies Win From Chicago

HOME CRICKET SCORES

Middlesex Tops 500 Mark!

London, Aug. 5.

Middlesex who are making a determined bid for the county cricket championship and are actually head of the table, made victory against Somerset certain to-day, when, at close of play, Somerset had scored 187 in one innings and 148 for 7 wickets at their second attempt after Middlesex had run up the imposing total of 514.

Yorkshire, too, are strongly placed for victory over Leicestershire. With one wicket down in their second innings, Yorkshire lead by 138 runs.

Kent appear to have a sporting chance of beating Notts, although their remaining five wickets will have to put together a few runs.

Sussex cannot hope for anything better than first innings points against Glamorgan, but Lancashire are certain to beat Gloucestershire, who, with three wickets outstanding in their second innings lead only by a paltry 62 runs.

Essex scored against Worcestershire to-day, winning by 121 runs. Bowlers were dominant, the biggest total in one innings being 198.

Essex scored 198 (Perks 8 for 63) and 165 (Perks 7 for 43), to which Worcestershire replied with 82 (Nichols 5 for 36, Peter Smith 5 for 27) and 160.

Perks bowled brilliantly for the losers, his 15 wickets for the entire match costing only 105 runs.

Yesterday's close of play scores, cabled by Reuter, were as follows: Glamorgan 358, Sussex 384/8.

Lancashire 454, Gloucestershire 287 and 229/7.

Kent 332 and 105/5, Notts 285.
